Art Mexican Folk Art Mirrors

Folk art occurs in every culture. It is art that is created by artists who have no formal art training. It is generally made by hand and is often designed to be functional. Mexican mirrors incorporating embossed tin frames and bright coloured frames have been functional art since the 1500's. Mexican hojalata (tin artwork) is created by stamping, punching and cutting tin shapes. Tin has been a metal of choice because it is inexpensive and easy to emboss. You are going to use tin foil.
