ABOUT SchoolDoodle

Created in 2019, SchoolDoodle is a family business specialising in the delivery of fun filled, exciting arts and craft parties and activities for children across Norfolk and Suffolk.

We hugely value the freedom of experimentation, and our wide range of activities focuses on the creative process of making rather than the outcome. We want our 'SchoolDoodlers' (i.e., our young community of creators) to have fun learning a creative skill, the freedom to experiment and to create beyond the boundaries of their expectations.

We are passionate about contributing to our local community, taking great pleasure organising community activities and welcoming adults, children and families to our arts and craft workshops. We also offer after-school activities and craft boxes packed full of creative fun for SchoolDoodlers to create from the comfort of their own home.

WHO WE ARE

Hannah Cole
Founder + Chief SchooDoodler

From a young age, Hannah could always be found with a colouring pencil, drawing on a piece of paper. It was therefore no great surprise that she was destined for a successful career in the arts.

Hannah has spent the past 18 years teaching and is skilled in the artistic disciplines of textiles, drawing, print making, painting and paper crafts. She takes great pride in engaging, stimulating, and challenging her students, many of whom have gone onto to study art subjects at higher educational levels. She values process led exploration over a structured outcome-based approach and champions true individual creativity and fun.

Hannah continues to draw, print, and produce stitched textile work for her own enjoyment and development, often exhibiting alongside her peers.

Hannah's love of art is second only to that of her young family, Mia (9) and Rowan (6). They have grown up surrounded by creative fun and have always been encouraged to explore, experiment, and create. Specialising in how children engage with art and materials at a young age, Mia and Rowan are always amongst the first to trial new SchooDoodle art activities and processes.

With a strong sense of community, Hannah wants to create and contribute to a community where individuals care about one another and feel they belong. This is exemplified through the running of art workshops for staff wellbeing, the organisation of community activities that showcase recycled and repurposed everyday materials, and producing over 300 free craft activity bags to entertain local children during the first national lockdown.
